

CEU Department of History Announces the Second Call

Application deadline – 27 March, 2014

Are you considering earning a Master's degree in History? Would you like to earn a US-accredited degree in a highly international environment while studying in one of Europe's most beautiful cities? If so, there's still time to apply for highly regarded History programs at Central European University (CEU) for fall 2014. (www.ceu.hu)

CEU is an English-language, graduate university located in Budapest, Hungary and it is accredited in the United States and in Hungary.

The Department of History (<http://history.ceu.hu/content/programs>) focuses on early modern and modern history, with a number of regional concentrations, including Central and Eastern Europe, as well as the former territories of the Ottoman and Russian Empires. Comparative perspectives on Western Europe and the Middle East are encouraged in both teaching and research. Furthermore, it is possible to concentrate on a number of special subjects such as

- Eastern Mediterranean Studies
- Jewish Studies
- Ottoman Studies
- History of Science
- Religious Studies

The affiliated Source Language Teaching unit offers courses in Arabic, Hebrew, Ancient Greek, Latin, Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian, Hungarian, Russian, Syriac, and Turkish.

The Department offers courses in the following fields:

- Historical Studies: Historiography, Theories, Methods, Skills
- Social and Political History
- Religious, Cultural, and Intellectual History
- Ethnicity, Nations, Nationalism and Empires

Faculty come from a variety of countries. For more information on faculty research interests and contact information please go to our website. (www.history.ceu.hu/faculty)

In recent years the Department has admitted students from over 30 countries. The majority receive grants, fellowships, and other forms of merit-based financial aid. Many of our MA graduates have been accepted into high-ranking American and European PhD programs, and our alumni teach in universities around the world or have taken leading positions in government, business, and international organizations.

The department invites applications for the following programs:

- 1) MA in Central European History \(one-year\)
- 2) MA in Comparative History \(two-year\): Central, Eastern and Southeastern Europe 1500-200

The final application deadline for MA programs in history for the academic year 2014/15 is March 27, 2014. If you are interested, please review the Frequently Asked Questions and contact us history@ceu.hu our Office of Admissions by e-mail at admissions@ceu.hu for an access code to apply using our online application form.

For additional information you can also contact CEU local representative Ms. Natia Nanava at natia@osgf.ge, tel. 2252615, 10 Chovelidze Street; Center for International Education.