

ERIH Initial List: Archaeology (2007)

European Reference Index for the Humanities (ERIH) is a project jointly sponsored by ESF and the European Commission ERA-Net project "Humanities in the European Research Area" (HERA) (Contract no.: ERAC-CT-2005-0161179). It comes under work-package 7 (Research Infrastructures).

The ERIH lists will help identify excellence in Humanities scholarship and should prove useful for the aggregate benchmarking of national research systems, for example, in determining the international standing of the research activity carried out in a given field in a particular country.

As they stand, the lists are not a bibliometric tool. The ERIH Steering Committee and the Expert Panels therefore advise against using the lists as the only basis for assessment of individual candidates for positions or promotions or of applicants for research grants.

Expert Panel Scope Note: Archaeology covers the entire world and all time periods from the earliest humans to the present, with numerous sub-fields. It deals with resources on the study of material remains (artifacts, monuments, environmental remains, landscapes), and includes methods of detection, analysis and, to some extent, preservation.

For a number of fields and subfields there are overlaps, e.g. for Ancient Art (with Art History), for Anthropology, Byzantine Studies (mostly to be covered by History, but also with Classical Studies and Art History), Heritage Studies (with History; here included when focused on archaeological aspects), Museum Studies / Museology (with Art History, History et al.), Numismatics (with Classical Studies and History), and general Humanities. Ancient Art will be covered only when set in social and archaeological contexts. Journals whose approach is purely art historical will not be covered.

Journals published by antiquities services and/or heritage authorities of specific countries or regions, particularly those outside 'Europe' (as defined by the limits of ESF MOs), are currently included, being important venues of publication for primary archaeological data. Most do not have peer review processes.
